All riddles, codes and hunts in this book are original. Every riddle was checked so that it points to exactly one place, and every code was decoded again by a separate program.

Safety first: grown-ups, please choose the hiding places. Never hide a clue in or near a hot oven, a running machine, or anywhere high or unsafe. Outdoor hunts need a grown-up nearby.

How to use this book

For hunters and their grown-ups

Find-It Hunts

Each page is a list of things to spot, with a picture of each one. Walk around (inside, outside, in the car, at the park) and check the box when you find one. How many can you find?

Riddle Hunts

Each riddle describes a place in your house, yard or classroom. Solve it, run to the place, write its name and check the box. Every riddle points to exactly one place. The answers are at the back.

Secret Code Hunts

Each card hides the name of a place in a secret code. The key is at the top of the page. Crack the code, then go and find the place!

Ready-to-Cut Treasure Hunts

A grown-up cuts out the clue cards (the back of each card page is blank) and hides them using the map. Each card leads to the next one, and the last one leads to a treasure.

Good to know

- Use a pencil, so you can play again.
- Grown-ups choose the hiding places. Never hide a clue anywhere hot, high or unsafe.
- Stuck? Read the clue out loud and look for the describing words.
